I was sitting there and my backpack was right next his feet. He brought the chair all the way from the other side and just put his back while I walked around there. I put away my backpack right before he does that. I said to him "What are you doing here?" He said "This chair was here from the beginning. I said "I have never seen this before."

I talked to the librarian in there with this picture. He was lying.

I went to Incheon city for the law suit.

2023 03 13 a guy named Choi came to contact apt #1 that I manage and next morning he asked me re-write the contract and suddenly started repeating the words following:

The person whose name's Kim, In Kwan is filming you right this moment, doesn't he?

You are repeating what he ask you to say, right?

He is a murderer who raped and killed his mother.

I call the police and a couple came and heard the phone call I recorded and ask me to call him again. He didn't answer.

The same day, I went to a police station nearest and reported to detectives and called Choi in front of them and he didn't answer. Detectives couldn't do anything about it.

I went to the police station next a couple of days and same thing happened. He sued me as a fraud and I was investigated by detectives at the police station but they found I am innocent. He moved incheon, 3 and half hours trip to one way from the city I live and sued me again and I had to go there for the lawsuit.

Their commonality is unusual bad behavior. No one who has right mind go out while covid 19 pandemic in public library and cough continuously with several people synchronously following a people around with similar clothes.

I sprayed formula to a booger wall several days ago behind of him in the picture.
